

Book of the month

MOTHER WHO?

Diane & Sharon Evans

BIG SKY PUBLISHING, RRP $29.95, AVAILABLE ONLINE AT WWW.MOTHERWHO.COM.AU AND BOOKSHOPS

Most women these days are aware of the massive challenges involved in successfully balancing a career, family, home and personal life. Mother Who? shares the personal stories and insights of a diverse group of mums including performer Kate Ceberano, Senator Natasha Stott Despoja and a host of other businesswomen and inspirational mothers from around Australia.

Created by Sisters Diane and Sharon Evans, the collection of 20 stories not only covers the personal journeys of these women, it talks about practical information on child care, working from home, health, relationships and being in pursuit of the elusive work-life balance. Keep an eye out for Money's own Effie Zahos and Susan Hely, who offer some wise advice for mums starting a small business, as well as teaching children money skills from an early age.

Drawing upon real experiences of juggling family, work and life Mother Who? will appeal to mums and mums-to-be as it offers inspiration and information about many of the questions and choices faced by working mothers today.

Part of the proceeds from the sale of Mother Who? goes to the child welfare organisation Barnardos.

Five readers can win a copy of this book

Tell us in 25 words or less your best advice on juggling family, work and life. Send entries to Book of the Month, Money, GPO Box 3542 Sydney NSW 2001 or email money@acpmagazines.com.au. Please include your name and postal address. Entries close September 30, 2007.